O fortunatos nimium, Bona ſi ſua norint,
Agricolas! VIRG.

SIR,

WITH Abundance of Pleaſure I peruſed your late Hiſtory of Mahomet Ali, Begh, the renowned Perſian PATRIOT. I muſt own you have prudently enough avoided running any Parallel, and making any particular Application: But happy, doubtleſs, is it for GREAT BRITAIN, that ſhe can boaſt of ſeveral as diſintereſted Miniſters, and as warm Defenders of her King and Liberties. I cannot ſay, but it would be a ſingular Gratification of my Curioſity, to ſee your Correſpondent's Tranſlation of the juſtly celebrated Arch Bp. of Cambray's beautiful Fiction, which you have given the Public ſome Hopes of, in a future Regiſter; but I muſt agree with you, that nothing makes ſo ſtrong an Impreſſion on the Mind, and is ſo engaging, as a Real Example of Heroic Virtue. Tho' your whole Performance is very natural, eaſy and entertaining, there is no Circumſtance, in the whole Relation, that ſtruck ſo agreeably on my Imagination, as Ali Begh's laſt humble Addreſs to his Royal Maſter, that he might be permitted to reaſſume his Shepherd's Crook, his Scrip, his Flute and Frock; to diveſt himſelf of all his Honours, return to his primitive Occupation, and ſpend the Remainder of his Days in Eaſe and Innocence. From this modeſt Supplication, I preſume, he meant to inform Mankind, that Grandure is no true Happineſs, and that no Pleaſures are comparable to thoſe which ariſe from Solitude and Freedom. In making this Reflection, on that agreeable Incident, I recollected a Paſſage I had long ſince met with in Seneca, which I have herewith ſent you incloſed, as a Sequel, or ſort of Moral to your Story. If there are not too many flagrant Errors in the Tranſlation, I am conſcious the World has long ſince acknowledged the Original a Beauty. If it meets with your Approbation, I ſhall expect to ſee it in your next Paper; if not, I hope you will excuſe the too bold Attempt, and agree that there is ſome Merit in the bare Inclination to ſerve a Friend.

I am, Yours, &c. LL.

On the Charms of Solitude and Freedom.

THE Silver Moon and all her ſtarry Train,
No longer now their borrow'd Light retain.
Night turns her ſable Chariot, to give Way
To the more bright, more glorious Dawn of Day.
Wiſh'd Morning's come, and now the lab'ring Swains
Rouze from their homely Huts, and fill the Plains.
Now as the dewy Hills the Lambkins graze,
And the Young Heifer round the Paſture plays.
The chearful Birds are now upon the Wing,
And as they fly, their am'rous Deſcants ſing;
In tuneful Notes their new-born Joys expreſs,
And, in their Way, the Riſing Sun addreſs.
The greedy Fiſher, with a pleaſing Pain,
Stands near ſome murm'ring Brook, whole Hours, in vain,
Yet baits his unſucceſsful Hook again.
Lucky at laſt, he ſeizes on his Prey,
And pleas'd, purſues the Fortune of the Day.
Early the Fowler ſpreads his artful Nets,
And round his Toils a warbling Concert ſets,
Whoſe well known Strains the feather'd Choir allure,
Crown his Deceit, and make his Game ſecure.
THESE are the harmleſs Paſtimes of the Swain,
Who's bleſt with Peace, and undiſturb'd with Pain;
Whoſe humble Cottage and luxuriant Field,
(Life's greateſt Bleſſing) true Contentment yield.
While anxious Care the Courtier's Boſom burns,
And Hopes and Fears torment his Soul by Turns;
Like Whirlwinds penetrate thro' every Part,
And ſearch the inmoſt Secrets of his Heart.
Here, One on ſome High-Prieſt or Peer attends,
With a Petition for Himſelf, or Friends:
Now here, now there, from Place to Place is toſt,
And yet at laſt, perhaps, his Labour's loſt.
A Miſer there, regardleſs of the Pain,
Or Danger, ventures thro' the liquid Main,
And ſearches Both the Indies to augment his Gain:
Never contented, ſtill he graſps at more,
And 'midſt his Plenty lives forever poor.
Here, a fond Fool who's bloated with Applauſe,
Beſtow'd by greater Fools, without a Cauſe,
Grows ſtrait imperious, thinks their Praiſes juſt,
And in the Whirl of vain Ambition's loſt.
There, the bri&d Gowns-man for his Client pleads,
And laughs at Juſtice, if his Cauſe ſucceeds.
Be then adviſ'd, the certain Now improve,
And ſeize the various Pleaſures of the Grove;
With your ſhrill Horns by Break of Day prepare
To rouze the ſubtle Fox, or tim'rous Hare;
Or range for feather'd Game the ſhady Woods,
Or draw, with your fallacious Nets, the Floods:
And when the Sun is in the Ocean ſet,
Let ſprightlier Joys your harmleſs Sports compleat:
To ſome indulgent Sylvan Maid repair,
(The Sylvan Maids are gen'rous as they're fair:)
When at their Feet the ſuppliant Lover lies,
They meet his Paſſion with conſenting Eyes;
With gentle Smiles his am'rous Sighs reward;
For Truth and Innocence are all their Guard.
Let Others fondly pay their Court to Fame,
And toil to purchaſe an immortal Name;
Let Others in triumphant Chariots ride,
And ſacrifice their precious Peace to Pride:
Grant Me, ye Pow'rs, an humble rural Seat,
Free from the Noiſe and Hurry of the Great;
Where I with Pleaſure, tho' obſcure, may dwell:
Rich Diſcontent is but a Pompous Hell.

Temperet a lachrimis! VIRG.

SIR,

SINCE your Brother Mævius, a worthy Member of the Grubean Society, has ſo lately entertained the Town with the Comical Encomiums of the new Lord Mayor's Noble TUN of moſt humming OCTOBER; probably a Tragical Narrative of the utter Demolition of Old Geron's no leſs Noble TUN of full as humming Liquor (no Diſparagement to his Lordſhip's) may, by Way of Contraſt, alſo prove a no diſagreeable Amuſement.——I am pretty well aſſured, that you have pleaſed many of your Readers by turning the Tables, in your laſt Paper, on CALEB and FOG, whom you merrily enough term our Political Prize-Fighters; and why may you not ſucceed as well in an Attempt of the like Nature on our more modeſt Satyriſts the exquiſite GRUBEANS? I am not inſenſible, that the celebrated Mr. Gay (the Darling of the Ladies) has entertained his fair Readers with much the ſame Story; tho' clothed in another Dreſs, under the ludicrous Title of WORK for a COOPER. But, as he has concealed the Author from whom he had the Hint, and has, without Reſtraint, purſued the Dictates of his own gay Imagination, I ſhall make no Apology for ſending you incloſed both the Original, and a more cloſe, more faithful Tranſlation. Whether it may be thought proper to inſert ſo much Latin in your Regiſter or not, I ſhall readily ſubmit to your Determination. But there are two Reaſons which, in my Opinion, carry ſome Weight with them, for its Publication. In the firſt Place, I dare aſſure you, that the Original is very ſcarce, and may therefore, perhaps, be a pleaſing Entertainment to your learned Readers: And ſecondly and laſtly, it will ſerve, at leaſt, to fill up a conſiderable Chaſm in your Paper. Whether that, indeed, may be any Inducement to you, I cannot ſay; but I am apt to think it would be a very prevailing Argument with ſome of your Brother Journaliſts. However, be that as it may, if what I here offer you meets with your Approbation, it is heartily at your Service; if not, commit the Copy to the Flames, and conceal the imperfect Attempt of

Yours, N.N.

GERONTIS & ANCILLA.

HABUIT Gerontes optimi Vini Cadum,
Primæ bibendum quem notæ ſodalibus
Servabat; hunc Ancilla, quamvis non ſibi
Servatum, adibat ſæpe, paulatim hauriens,
Et ſic Cadus perire. Jam frequentibus
Perdiderat Animæ pœnè dimidium hauſtibus,
Herus ipſe cum deſcendit, accenſâ face,
Recogniturus Dolium: verum ut ſono
Inanitatem ſentit, Ancillam vocat;
Accurrit: Ambo quæritant labem Cadi.
Fax gemina lucet; rimulam at nullam vident;
Non Vimen hiſcit laxius; ſana omnia;
Ancilla tandem juſſa conſcendit Cadum,
Viſura pone, ſi quid acciderit mali:
At dum Caput reclinat, elatâ togâ,
Cluneſque proximæque Partes clunibus

Bonus Gerontes; quærere, inquit, deſine:
Rimam, ecce! Video, quâ meum fluxit Merum.

The LEAK diſcovered. A TALE.

GERON, a jovial Monk, a tipling Blade,
Kept an Old TUN of Beer, and a Young Maid.
No better Beer was e'er tipt over Tongue;
Mellow and fine as Sack, and full as ſtrong.
This darling TUN for Saints-Days ſet aſide,
Was honeſt GERON's Glory and his Pride.
When broach'd, 'twas only as a Cordial taſted;
And might an Age almoſt, ſo ſtu'd, have laſted.
But his Maid PEGGY, with a private Key,
Had free Acceſs where all this Treaſure lay.
To this Great SHRINE, by Stealth ſhe oft repair't;
Ne'er goes to Sleep, but firſt goes there to Pray'r:
No NUN e'er went to Midnight-Maſs more ſure,
Her Zeal was, like her Drink, exceeding pure.
Long Time ſhe drove this ſubtle, pious Trade
Uninterrupted; nor were Queſtions made,
Till, by her conſtant Draughts, the TUN decay'd.
At laſt, one luckleſs Night, the thirſty Monk
No ways ſuſpecting his OCTOBER ſunk,
Unknown to MARGARET ſtole ſtyly down,
To his Dear TUN, to take a Cogue alone:
But ringing at the Tap, ſurpriz'd he found
His TUN expiring by its Ghoſtly Sound.
AVE MARIA! what has here been doing?
I'm ruin'd! robb'd! I've loſt my darling Brewing!
PEG hears th' Alarm, and, ſeeming ſore affrighted,
Haſts to her MASTER, with a Candle lighted.
O Jeſu! what's the Matter, for Heaven's Sake!
Matter enough!——Our Veſſel ſprings a LEAK!
With angry Eyes they both peep round about,
To find, if poſſible, the Crevice out:
But all in vain; the TUN proves faſt and tight;
Not one Hoop flown, and all ſtands ſafe in Sight.
The MAID, commiſſion'd, ſtrait aſcends its Head,
And ſtooping downwards all behind ſurvey'd.
Upwards her Hoop, by her Deceſſion, flew,
And every latent Charm expos'd to View.
Tranſported with the Viſion, GERON cry'd;
Come, PEGGY; lay thy fruitleſs Search aſide:
Don't take ſuch wond'rous Pains; I plainly ſpy
The Leak, from whence my Tun is drain'd ſo dry.

SATURDAY, October 31.

LAST Week her Majeſty purchaſed the Bowling-Green Ground at Richmond, together with ſome other Parcels of Land adjoining, and has been pleaſed to augment the Charity (that depended thereon) for the Poor of the ſaid Town.

The Lady Diana Fielding, Siſter to the R. Hon. the Earl of Denbigh, had laſt Thurſday one of the new-faſhioned anonymous Letters ſent her, at her Houſe in Duke-Street, Weſtm. threatning Death, Fire, &c. in caſe her Ladyſhip did not ſend a certain Sum of Money to a Place in the ſaid Letter ſpecified.

We hear that Mr. Colley Cibber oppoſes Mr. Stephen Duck for the Place of Poet Laureat to his Majeſty, vacant by the Death of the Rev. Mr. Lau. Euſden.

A fine Monument will be erected in Weſtm. Abbey, to the Memory of Mrs. Oldfield, near the Place of her Interment.

Yeſterday, as Alex. Macvey, Drum-beater in Chelſea-College, was returning from Hamſtead, he found a Woman hanging on a Tree near the ſaid Town: He cut her down, and after a conſiderable Time ſhe came to Life: She was carried to a Juſtice's Houſe, and there declared, that her Husband was in Trouble, and obliged to leave her in Diſtreſs, which was the Occaſion of her ſo doing.

The ſame Day one Wilkins, a Milk-Woman, hanged herſelf in her Apron-ſtrings in New-Street by Covent-Garden.

Laſt Monday Morn. about Nine, a Fire broke out in an Out-houſe belonging to Mr. Barton, a Farmer near Shipperton in Middleſex, which conſumed the ſame, together with a Stack of Hay. The Damage of the whole is computed to the Value of 100 l.

Wedneſday laſt, when their Majeſties came to St. James's, Mr. Hagar, one of the Marſhal's Men, had the Misfortune to run againſt the Sentinel's Bayonet, as he was endeavouring to keep off the Crowd, whereby he received a dangerous Wound in the Right Breaſt, which it is thought will prove mortal.

On the Ld. Mayor's Day, a Man who was poſted at the Corner of Milk-Street, to ſecure the Chain acroſs the Street, to prevent the Coaches coming into Cheapſide, as the Proceſſion was paſſing, was over-powered by the Mob, who preſſed on him ſo, that he was obliged to let go his Hold, and fell with such Violence, that he broke both his Legs; he was immediatly carried to St. Bartholomew's Hospital.—As was a Day or two before a Plummer, who fell from a House in White-Cross-Street, and broke his Thigh.

The Bermudas-Merchant, Capt. Hern, bound from St. Eustace to Holland, foundered in her Passage, and the Men were all lost except a Negro Boy.

The Ship, Capt. Boyle, of and for Southampton, in coming out of the Elve, about three Weeks ago, ran upon the Sands and was lost; but all the Men saved.

Rob. &c. Thursday Morn. last, between One and Two, the House of Mr. Culpit, Broker, in Grub-Street, was broke open by some Rogues, who cut out a Pannel of the Window Shutters; but the Watch coming by, prevented them from doing any farther Damage, than only carrying off a Piece of checked Linnen.——The same Morn. one Jones, a Higgler, coming from Hertford to Leadenhall, was robbed, by two Footpads, near Endfield-Wash, of a Box of Clothes and Linnen, to the Value of near 20 Guineas.

Pref. A Patent is ordered to pass the Seals for constituting Cha. Montagu, Esq; Son of the late Ld. C. Baron Montagu, Auditor to his R. Saturday, the 12 Indians, Natives of Bengal, who came by the Ship Greenwich, lately arrived from E. India, received an Answer to their Petition, lately presented to his Majesty, to their intire Satisfaction.

We hear from East-Redford, in Nottinghamshire, that a fine Spaw was lately discovered there, no Way inferior to the German Spaw; and that several eminent Physicians have given their Approbation thereof, which has encouraged the Corporation to begin a Subscription towards making the Place very Commodious, and it has met with such Success among the Gentlemen of the Neighbourhood, &c. that it is thought it will be of great Advantage to the Public; many remarkable Cures having been performed already, by drinking it.

Last Saturday, near Three in the Morn. a Fire broke out in the Cellar of Mr. Thorley, Ironmonger and Brazier in Newgate-Street, which would have done much Mischief, had it not been timely discovered and prevented. It seems past all Doubt that this was a contrived Villany of one Rich. Butterfield, his Apprentice, who, having first sent away all his Cloaths, &c. was himself missing about an Hour before the Fire appeared; a good Quantity of Shavings, Straw, Sticks, old Baskets, with other such Combustibles, being heaped up in the Coal-Hole, where the Fire began.

Rob. &c. Wednesday Night last, Mr. Hall, who had Care of the New Church at Limehouse, was robbed and abused by two Foot-pads, beyond Stepney Church.——The Shop of Mr. Beauvois, Watch-maker in Castle-Street near Leicester-Fields, was, last Thursday robbed of a Show-Glass wherein were four Silver Watches.——Saturday Morn. a Girl of about Eight, and a Boy of Six, went to the Shop Window of Mr. Askew, Goldsmith in Barbican, one Side of the Shop being furnished with Toys, and a Shew-Glass being unlocked, the Girl took out three Heads of Canes, several Pieces of Amber, two Pair of Scissars, and several other small Things. But being pursued, brought back and searched, the Goods were found in the Boy's Pocket. Their Father was sent for, and the Man appearing to have a good Character, he was permitted to take them home, on his promising to give them due Correction.——The same Day, Stephen Gay was committed to Newgate, for entring the House of Mr. Wm. Roberts, breaking the Chest of John Bonny, and taking away the Value of 15 l.——As was also Eliz. Stubbs, for robbing Eliz. Maltman of a Pair of Sheets and other Things.

Pref. the Rev. TUESDAY, November 3.

The so well known Mary Harvey, al. &c. &c. &c. is so far from being Bailed out, as was reported, that she is still in safe Custody. Very sufficient Bail was, indeed, offered; but as she was then in Court charged upon three more Indictments in the Crown-Office; two for keeping a disorderly House, and one for beating a Constable, and that she had not appeared and pleaded to these Indictments, her Bail was forfeited and their Recognizances estreated from the Exchequer: Whereupon the Court ordered, that she should be committed to the King's-Bench Prison, till she finds good Bail to plead and try the Indictments; and after she has found such Bail, then to be remanded to the Gatehouse, till she shall make such Submission as Sir John Gonson, the Chairman, and the rest of their Worships (whom she grosly abused) shall accept of, and till they shall think fit to discharge her.

We also hear there are three or four more Indictments against her at Westm. Sessions for keeping a disorderly House; besides one at the Sessions of Oyer and Terminer for the City of London, for Perjury.

Notice is given to all Peers, Peeresses, and Privy Counsellors, that the Court goes into Mourning on Sunday the 8th Inst. for Frederick IV. late King of Denmark. They write from Exeter, that a few Days since Mr. Newcombe of that City received a Letter signed Legion, requiring him, on the Receipt thereof, to bring a certain Sum of Money, and leave it at the Place therein mentioned; threatning, that if he did not comply with the Demand, they would certainly murder him, and burn his House down to the Ground.——And another threatning Letter was likewise sent to a wealthy Grocer of the said City, demanding a considerable Sum of Money to be laid under a certain Stone in the Church-Yard, and threatning him with Murder if he did not leave the Sum mentioned within the Time limited,

And from Dublin they write, that a Popish Priest is there committed to Newgate, for insulting the Rev. Mr. Robinson, Curate of St. Michael's, in the Street, tearing his Gown and Band, cursing most wickedly and calling him Heretical Dog, &c. &c. &c.

Also from the same Place we learn, that a Fellow attempted to ravish a very young Girl whom he had decoyed into the Castle-Yard; but that on her crying out for Assistance, the Sentinel secured the Ravisher before the Girl had received much Damage.——And that some other Ruffains having knocked down a Woman on Essex-Bridge, she was rescued by some Chairmen, before the Rogues could effect their Designs, whatever they were.

The Society of Journeymen Shoe-makers at their annual Feast, in Honour of St. Crispin, at the Bull's-Head in Fishamble-Street, Dublin, had the following Bill of Fare; viz. 14 Rumps of Beef, 14 Legs of Mutton, 14 Turkies, 14 Geese, 6 Ducks, 2 Barrels of Ale, half a Barrel of March Beer, 6 Gallons of Brandy, and 20 Twelve-penny Loaves.

Death. Lately died, in Scotland, —— Wightman, of Maulsly, Esq; late Ld. Provost of Edinburgh. Among his many charitable Legacies, he left several 100 l. for buying up Meal, on any Prospect of a Dearth, to be sold to the Poor at prime Cost.

WEDNESDAY, November 4.

Upwards of 200 Men are employed to carry on the new Serpentine River in Hyde-Park, under Direction of Cha. Withers, Esq; which we hear is to be 400 Yards long, 100 Yards broad, and 40 Foot deep.——We also hear, that his Majesty, having approved of a Plan for building a Royal Mansion House in the same Park, Orders are given for the carrying it on with the utmost Expedition; and a great Number of Workmen will be very speedily employed for that Purpose, under Direction of Wm. Ripley, Esq;

About Two, last Monday Morn. during a most terrible Tempest, the Spire-Steeple of the Church of Maidstone in Kent was fired by Lightning, and burned down to the Stone-Work: It was Ten in the Forenoon before the Fire could be conquered, notwithstanding the great Diligence used, which prevented any farther Damage; tho' the Bells and whole Church were thought to be in the utmost Danger.

Last Night the Corpse of his late Grace of Cleveland, having lain in State at the Jerusalem-Chamber, was thence interred in Westm-Abbey in a very pompous Manner, which occasioned a numerous Concourse of People to see the Solemnity. The Pall was supported by six Knts. Companions of the most Noble Order of the Garter; viz. the Dukes of Somerset, Montagu, Dorset, Bolton, Rutland and Kent. Monday the Sessions of the Peace was held by Adjournment at Guildhall, before the R. Hon. Humphrey Parsons, Esq; Ld. Mayor of this City, when Tho. Thompson and Lavinia Whitney were tried for a Conspiracy, in causing one Wm. Gibson to personate Sam. Brooks, and to marry the said Lavinia in his Name: After a Trial that lasted about five Hours, the Jury withdrew, and brought in their Verdict, that they were both Guilty of the Indictment, whereupon they received Sentence to stand in the Pillory in Cheapside, to pay a Fine of 10 Marks each, and to suffer six Months Imprisonment in Newgate, and to continue in Prison till the Fine is paid; and also to find Securities afterwards for their good Behaviour for one Year.

Deaths. Died lately at Boulogne in France, in his Way hither, John Ker, of Troydon in Scotland, Esq;——As did also lately the Lady Devischer, Mother of the Lieut. Col. of that Name, now in the Island Minorca.——And Brig. Waring's Wife, at his Seat in Berkshire.——And Saturday last died, at St. Edmund's-Bury, in Suffolk, Dr. Poley Clopton, a noted and able Physician. In Right of his fine Manor, Lyston in Essex, he claimed the Office of Wafer-Bearer at every Coronation. We hear, he has left the Bulk of his Estate to the Wife of Edward Crispe, Esq; of Bury, who was so inhumanly mangled, in 1721, by his Brother-in-Law Mr. Arundel Coke, who was executed for that vile Action.——Yesterday Morn, died Rich. Rigby, Esq; a S. Sea Director.

THURSDAY, November 5.

Extract of a Letter from Jamaica; dated the 31*st of last* August.

A Spanish Lieut. with about 20 Sailors, are arrived here in a Boat, from whom we learn, that they sailed from Cartagena, for Cadiz, in a Spanish Man of War, called the Genoesa; but she unfortunately run on a Shoal a few Leagues from this Island, called Point-Pedro Shoals, where the Ship set fast, and was wrecked. As soon as this News came to the Knowledge of the South-Sea Company's Agents here, they dispatched a Snow to their Assistance. This Ship had on board, in Gold and Silver, to the Value of about 1,000000 Pieces of Eight, of which 250,000 were a Present for the Queen of Spain, and the rest for Account of the King. The late President of Panama, and several other State Prisoners, who had been sent for to Old-Spain, were on board. Most of our Sloops and small Craft are gone and going to save what they can.

Agreeable to a late Account, of his Majesty's Snow the Happy having been seen engaged with a Sloop (supposed to be a Pyrate) near the Bahama Islands, we now hear, that the Happy carried her by Boarding, and that, on entering, the Happy's Men fought with such Bravery, that in a short Space only 15 of the Sloop's Crew were left alive: They proved to be Spaniards.——And from Jamaica, Aug. 31, they write, that the Adventure Man-of-War, Ld. Muskerry

Com. (arrived there some Weeks before from Cruising on the Coast of Africa) was to sail in a few Days for England, and that several Ships were preparing to take the Benefit of her Convoy. Adding, that a Man-of-War was ordered to attend the Spaniſh Wreck, to prevent any Abuſes being committed by People who might intrude themſelves, under Pretence of aſſiſting the Spaniards. —— "All good Chriſ-"tians ought to return Good for Evil."

A fine new State is making for his R. The South-Foreland has had its Lights open alſo on the Top of the Houſes ſome Time, ſince which the ſaid Lights are ſeen from Ramſgate, which is four Leagues, and ſeveral Captains of Ships aver, that they ſee thoſe Lights now ſeveral Leagues Diſtance farther than they could while they were covered with Glaſs. By another Article, Proviſion ſhall be made, that any Advantages which his Imperial Majeſty, with the Conſent of the Eſtates in Italy, ſhall think fit to give his Eldeſt Daughter in Reverſion, ſhall not be oppoſed, but ſuffered to take place.——They write from Saxony, that the Troops of that Electorate are to be augmented with 16,000 Men.

It occaſions no ſmall Surpriſe to hear, that his Holineſs has ordered the Card. Sec. of State to diſpatch to the Archbiſhop of Turin the Brief of the Univerſal Jubilee, with Orders to cauſe it to be printed and poſted in the ſaid City and Dioceſe, under Pain of Excommunication, without asking Leave of the new King of Sardinia.

Petersburg, Oct. 8. They write from Derbent, that it is confirmed, that the young Perſian Monarch had already retaken Part of the Conqueſts made by the Turks in Perſia, and flattered himſelf with being Maſter of all the reſt, before the Ottoman Army could come up to oppoſe him: That the Seraskier Baſha having reaſſembled the ſcattered Remnants of the Turkiſh Army, defeated by Shah Thamasb near Tauris, had formed a Body, with which he was retired into an advantageous Poſt, and that the ſaid General had received Orders from the Grand Signor to ſend him the Heads of ſome of the Baſhas who had failed of their Duty in the late Battel with the Perſians.

Frankfort, Nov. 2. N. S. Some Days since, a Fire broke out at a Baker's at Lauenstein, which raged with such Violence, that it consumed 74 of the best Houses in the Place, and almost 200 of the meaner Sort, before it could be extinguished.
